Walker

Case History

Walker is a handsome, big, New Zealand White Rabbit with a gentle personality. He came from Vancouver Island where he had been abandoned.

Poor Walker has an abscess in his jaw and misaligned teeth. He is receiving medication and the abscess is much better but it is possible that he will need to continue with antibiotic for life.

Walker will need dental work including x-rays and an operation. He's a lovely boy and he deserves a chance. Not only is he a sweet fellow he's also perfect with his litter box.
